

MEMBERSHIP MATTERS

Value for Your Life

One of the greatest benefits of CEA membership is our combined power to create positive change. Together, we advocate for quality public education, teachers' rights and safety, and the resources you need in and out of the classroom.

While teachers in states with weakened unions have struggled for better pay and working conditions, CEA—with our strength in numbers—has maintained high standards that boost student outcomes and elevate our profession.

A large group of people, including students and adults, posing for a photo in front of a brick building. Many are holding signs that read "THE FUTURE OF SHELTON IS IN MY CLASSROOM" and "CUTS HURT KIDS". Some signs also say "WE SUPPORT FULLY FUNDED SCHOOLS" and "is NOT our STUDENTS PROBLEM". A sign in the foreground says "You too my TEACHERS".

WE ACHIEVE GREAT THINGS.

Because of our union, we have

- Some of the highest teacher salaries in the nation
- Pensions that support us in retirement
- Substantial healthcare and other benefits
- Guaranteed 30-minute, duty-free lunch
- No dual teaching
- Personal and sick days
- Guaranteed equivalent position after taking maternity or medical leave
- Additional pay for additional responsibilities, including coaching and extracurricular activities
- Class sizes typically under 30 students
- Students taught by certified, highly educated teachers
- Prep periods
- Free, relevant professional development

“WHILE YOU ARE FOCUSED ON YOUR STUDENTS, KNOW THAT WE ARE FOCUSED ON YOU—ADDRESSING YOUR NEEDS AND PROTECTING YOUR RIGHTS.”

KATE DIAS, CEA PRESIDENT

BECAUSE OF OUR UNION,

CEA's victories in recent years include everything from a revamp of teacher evaluation and mandated reporting to laws ensuring play-based learning in the early grades, classroom safety protocols, duty-free lunch periods, and more—and the funding to make significant teacher priorities a reality.

The same union advocacy that has garnered widespread support for our profession has also drawn the attention of corporate interests that see unions as a threat to their profit margins and their influence. Slick campaigns organized by well-funded, union-busting groups—often emails, postcards, and calls directed right at teachers—are aimed at undermining our union and eroding our freedom, solidarity, and strength.

CEA is your union, your voice, and your protection against attacks aimed at taking away your hard-fought benefits, preventing salary increases, reducing your pension, and eliminating your right to collective bargaining and your ability to teach.

When we stand together, we succeed.

WE ARE STRONG.

CEA advocates for teachers by

- Negotiating contracts that include a competitive salary, health coverage, and other benefits
- Improving your working conditions
- Protecting your teaching certification
- Helping you navigate the pension system for a secure retirement
- Providing meaningful professional development
- Developing sound educational policies and conducting research that informs those policies
- Speaking up for teachers in the media to provide perspective and generate public support and respect

As a CEA member, you have the power of three unions behind you—your local, statewide, and national education associations—amplifying your voice at the school and district level, at board of education meetings, before the state legislature and State Department of Education, and in the halls of Congress.

“I’VE BEEN TEACHING FOR YEARS, BUT I’VE BENEFITED FROM CEA MEMBERSHIP SINCE THE DAY I WAS BORN, BECAUSE BOTH MY PARENTS WERE CONNECTICUT TEACHERS AND PROUD CEA MEMBERS.”

JEANINE LABROSSE,
AVON TEACHER

LEGAL PROTECTION

Educators rarely anticipate needing employment-related legal protection, but a surprising number of circumstances—from false allegations to work-related illness—can jeopardize your career.

CEA's experienced legal team is here to help. They resolve hundreds of cases each year, protecting members against loss of income, unfair working conditions, health and safety risks, and more.

In addition to in-depth training in matters regarding everything from FOI requests to teachers as mandated reporters, CEA's team of attorneys provides members with free, expert legal representation in key areas:

- Workers' compensation
- DCF investigations
- Tenured teacher terminations
- Certification issues and revocations
- Unemployment denial hearings
- Unfair labor practices

Meet CEA's legal team. Left to right, Rebecca Mitchell (legal counsel), Adrienne DeLucca (general counsel), and Melanie Kolek (legal counsel).

Teachers and the Law

CEA's legal team provides free workshops for CEA members examining your rights and responsibilities regarding mandatory reporting laws, DCF investigations, Weingarten meetings, physical assaults on teachers, and more.

Knowledge is your best protection. Visit cea.org/professional-development and attend a free Teachers and the Law workshop.

FINANCIAL SECURITY

CEA works to ensure your retirement is secure.

You dedicate your life to public education, and the state has an obligation to provide you with the support you need to retire with dignity. Connecticut public school educators do not participate in Social Security through their teaching positions, so your teacher retirement benefits are your primary source of retirement security. CEA is committed to protecting your retirement by

- Ensuring the long-term solvency, stability, and benefit structure of the State Teachers' Retirement System
- Requiring the state to fulfill its obligation to fund the State Teachers' Retirement System
- Advocating for appropriate funding for the Retired Teachers' Health Insurance Fund
- Working to repeal federal laws that cut educators off from Social Security benefits

Understanding and planning your retirement

It's never too early to start planning for your retirement. CEA offers members-only workshops that explain the State Teachers' Retirement System and the steps you should take to set up a smooth retirement in the future. Topics include

- Retirement eligibility and benefit calculations
- Purchasing additional service credit
- Social Security issues
- Retiree health insurance
- Disability benefits

Retirement workshops are free. For more information, visit cea.org/retirement-information.

PROFESSIONAL LEARNING ACADEMY

CEA's Professional Learning Academy offers a wealth of opportunities aligned with Connecticut's professional development standards to improve teaching practice and enhance student learning. CEA members can attend online and in-person workshops and conferences developed by experienced educators, administrators, and experts in law, special education, and other fields. Topics include

- Classroom management
- Social-emotional learning
- Improving teacher evaluations and outcomes
- Preventing and responding to student assaults
- Educators' legal rights and responsibilities
- Teacher pensions
- Implicit bias
- Social media safety

Visit cea.org/professional-development for a complete list of offerings, which are continually updated to include new strategies and address evolving needs.

CEA's Professional Learning Academy is a Connecticut State Department of Education designated professional development program.

GET INVOLVED WITH A CEA COMMITTEE OR COMMISSION

Member involvement and input are vitally important to the daily activities of CEA. When you join a CEA commission or committee, you can share your ideas, work with colleagues from across the state, and help shape your education association for years to come. Consider serving on one of these commissions or committees. Learn more at cea.org/commissions-and-committees.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY,

One of an educator's most important roles is that of an ally.

Our work includes helping our students and colleagues recognize their value and reach their potential. To that end, we address inequities in our schools, create safe, welcoming, and inclusive environments, and strive to build a teaching force that reflects the diversity and experiences of the communities we serve. In addition to CEA's legislative efforts at diversifying the profession, the association's Racial and Ethnic Diversity Affairs Commission actively amplifies the voices of teachers of color.

As a collective force, we have tremendous capacity to stand up for social justice, equitable access to resources, and age-appropriate communication about race, gender, and other issues that are salient to our students' lives, their understanding of the world they live in, and their place in it.

We know the profound, positive, and lasting influence teachers have on their students when we engage in authentic and meaningful ways. We must stand together to protect those relationships, uphold fact-based curricula, and encourage critical thinking and civic engagement.

“IN PUBLIC EDUCATION, AS ELSEWHERE, DIVERSE VOICES, EXPERIENCES, AND PERSPECTIVES ARE A TREMENDOUS ASSET. CEA IS COMMITTED TO ENSURING OUR ASSOCIATION AND PROFESSION NOT ONLY SUPPORT DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION AND CELEBRATE THE COMMUNITIES WE SERVE BUT ALSO REFLECT THEM.”

TODD JAECK,
CEA EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

INCLUSION, INTEGRITY

When groups looking to attack the school curriculum in Greenwich, Guilford, and other towns targeted teachers, local education association members and CEA leaders and staff publicly demanded a stop to the harassment, affirmed their support of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and got out the vote. With our union organizing to protect public education, groups such as these attempting to gain seats on local boards of education were defeated, and teachers' rights were preserved.

After being asked to remove pride flags from their classrooms, the Stonington Education Association swiftly came together with CEA's assistance not only to bring back these symbols of inclusion but also pass a formal board resolution affirming support for LGBTQ+ students and staff, creating a safe, welcoming environment for all students, and having nondiscrimination language added to teacher and other education staff contracts. This model contract language is now being used by local teachers' unions across the state.

“CEA IS THERE TO HELP US AT EVERY TURN. WE HAD A RALLY TO DEFEND OUR CURRICULUM AND UPHOLD THE SAFETY OF OUR TEACHERS, AND CEA ENSURED WE WERE SUCCESSFUL.”

LILLIAN PERONE, GREENWICH TEACHER
